

Stafford Street

HELENSBURGH'S beautiful street trees, gardens and impressive architecture make the perfect backdrop for a gentle stroll or cycle.

Depending on the season, devise your own exploration of Helensburgh's beautiful streets and you will be richly rewarded.

Gradients are gentle and traffic mostly light. Remember to take in the rich variety of architecture and of course resident's gardens which can often be glimpsed from the street adding further delight to a stroll around the town.

Our map shows only part of the town. There are many more tree lined streets throughout the town and for those with more time to spend further exploration will prove well worthwhile.

HELENSBURGH TREE CONSERVATION TRUST

Helensburgh Tree Conservation Trust is a volunteer organisation that cares for almost 2,000 street trees. Since the Trust was formed by town residents in 2002 it has planted more than 1000 new trees.

Many of the existing street trees have lined the grass verges of the town for the last 80 years but are now reaching the end of their life and need to be replaced to keep Helensburgh's streets looking beautiful. It costs about £80 to purchase and plant a tree.

The importance of Helensburgh's street trees is such that they are now one of Scotland's National Tree Collections amidst other collections like Benmore Gardens, Lang Craigs and Crarae.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP

If you share our passion for our exceptional trees, for a small annual fee you can join the Trust by completing a membership form or join online at www.treetrust.co.uk

Commemorate a special event or a person with a donation towards the cost of a tree and list the celebration in our special Roll Book. Join our occasional work parties or become a Tree Guardian and help care for a few trees near your home.
